Our Key Customer

Biocon

Biopharmaceuticals

Biocon is among few companies in the world with a diverse scientific skill base and advanced manufacturing capabilities for the development and commercialisation of biopharmaceuticals.

They offer a range of products from fermentation derived small molecules to recombinant proteins and antibodies. In the specialised field of custom bio-manufacturing, they provide high quality, cost-competitive services to domestic and international pharmaceutical companies.

Chemical Synthesis

A key feature of Biocon's manufacturing strategy is to establish a strong synergy between our fermentation and chemical conversion technologies. Together, they offer us the flexibility of producing several technologically-challenging products. Most small molecules produced by fermentation, are subsequently, chemically converted to the active form and purified in our chemical synthesis facilities.

Biocon also manufactures some products purely by organic synthesis to offer customers a choice of products in their chosen therapeutic areas. Our facilities are equipped with a range of reactor sizes - glass lined and cryogenic reactors. Other equipment includes centrifuges, vacuum dryers, and micronisers, located in "clean" finishing suites. All our facilities are cGMP compliant, designed to maintain the highest standards of quality and safety.

In addition to the two existing manufacturing sites in Bangalore, Biocon has acquired a manufacturing facility from IDL Specialty Chemicals Ltd. near Hyderabad. This unit will support Biocon's ever expanding requirement in Synthesis based bulk drugs.

Our Worldwide Network

Headquartered in Los Angeles, California, our global network operates from all corners of the World.

Our network is celebrating 21 years of successful networking and is continually growing in strength and numbers.

Network Vision Statement: The Worldwide Partnership CargoLink Network (WWPC) is committed to providing the International Trade Community with a high value service in all areas of International Transportation by “Linking Cargo Logistic Forwarders in a Worldwide Partnership;” thereby enabling our customers, importers/exporters, to concentrate on their core activity.
